

Women on the Water

fly casting instruction and conservation discussion with special guest

Jen Ripple

Schrems West Michigan Chapter
Wednesday, August 12, 2015
Rockford, Michigan

Join Schrems West Michigan Trout Unlimited for our second women's event featuring author and angler Jen Ripple. Jen is the Editor-in-Chief of Dun Magazine and an avid angler specializing in getting women on the water and into the sport of fly fishing. Excited to be back in West Michigan, Jen will meet and greet with the group at Rockford Brewing Company, offer casting instruction and then take to the river to offer hands on instruction. Join us for a fun and informative evening!

Meet Jen!

Jen is a self-proclaimed fly fishing addict who claims to have water in her veins. Executive Editor of a Tight Loop Magazine and Editor-in-Chief of Dun Magazine, Jen spends her time engaged in fly fishing issues, as well as teaching women's fly tying and fly casting clinics, speaking nationwide on issues regarding women in fly fishing and devoting her time to conservation efforts through nonprofits. A sounding board for women in this currently male-dominated sport, Jen has created a home base for women worldwide to connect and engage in the fly fishing arena.

Social 5:30 –6:30pm

Rockford Brewing Company
Complimentary Pizza & Drink Ticket
Enter to Win Door Prizes
Sponsored by Schrems West Michigan

Casting 6:30-7:30pm

Casting 101 – Learn the basics
Casting 201 – Get a tune-up

Fishing 7:30—8:30pm

The Rogue River
Enjoy time on the water with Jen and Trout Unlimited members

No charge. RSVP by Monday, August 10 to steve.frendt@oldnational.com or call 616.540.0742.

NOTE: If you have your own gear, bring it: rigged rod, waders/boots or wet wading shoes.

If you don't have your own gear, let us know when you RSVP. We will have some gear available for demonstrations. Mystic Fly Rods will be onsite introducing the new Sapphyre series women's rod. Come out and give them a try!

